

Short Resume

Thomas de Bur

(born 1964) Author, Artist, Photographer and Artisan.
He is currently living in the Palatinate / Germany

Two German novels published in 2013:

“Bärenjäger – Der alte Mann vom Berg”

(“Bear Hunter – the old man from the mountain”)

“Verschwörung der Schmetterlinge“

(“Conspiracy of Butterflies”)

Since 2009 he has worked mainly in artistic photography.

In his artistic photography work he has concentrated on individual hand-signed pieces and small series of valuable gallery pictures.

They are available only in printed form on gallery canvas, Aluminum Dibond or on Fine Art paper, and in strictly limited editions.

The art works are the finished products from the photographer, original photographs transformed through a unique, picturesque style into one of a kind items.

The works of Thomas De Bur blur the boundary between painting and photography in various manifestations.

The artist refuses to use collages, hand-coloration or similar compositions.

He works exclusively with the captured image and electronic image data of the original photo, picking out important details in order to communicate the moods and emotions of the moment.

The picturesque artistic photography of Thomas de Bur and particularly the 'combined black and white technique' invented by him, represent a new direction in style within artistic photography.
